

Transitions

Jason Vasser-Elong

University of Missouri – St. Louis, Missouri, USA

What does it mean to transition – moving from darkness into sun rays catching you gaze off into a meadow or an imagined space.

Meander, follow dreams follow streams to wherever they lead, beautiful flowers
an always blue sky,

or a midnight where the stars dance for you and you watch them twinkle and move into constellation.

You admire the drinking gourd and those that followed those that helped.

Realizing that time is for all of us. That it is free, infinite and all it requires is nothing.